

Declaration of Consent

We hereby declare our consent for the Chair of Prof. Wolfgang Maaß to publish the results of our mini-project on their official website. We understand and agree to the following terms and conditions:

1. Purpose: The purpose of publishing the mini-project results is to showcase academic achievements, promote learning, and provide examples for educational purposes to the wider community.
2. Publication: The mini-project results, including any accompanying materials such as titles, abstracts, and presentation videos, may be published on the official website and related platforms designated by the institution.
3. Attribution: The mini-project results will be published under our full name as the authors. We acknowledge that our names will be associated with the published work.
4. Intellectual Property: We confirm that the mini-project submitted is our original work, except where we have appropriately attributed the credit to the original sources and authors of referenced materials. We affirm that the mini-project does not infringe upon the intellectual property rights of any third party.
5. Privacy and Personal Information: We understand that publishing our mini-project results on the website may involve sharing personal information such as our names and academic program. We consent to the publication of such information for the purposes outlined in this declaration.

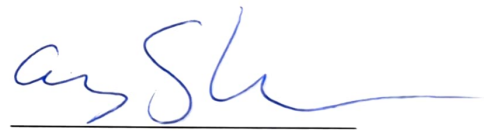

By signing below, we confirm that we have read and understood this Declaration of Consent and agree to its terms and conditions.
